IAP2's Public Participation Spectrum \(2014\) is designed to support the selection of the appropriate level of community participation given goals, time frames, resources and levels of concern in decision making.

Resources:

Co-production: putting principles into practice in mental health contexts is an open access resource developed by Roper, Grey and Cadogan (2018) to inform and support the understanding, planning, and implementing co-production initiatives.

HealthWest's Community Participation Resources are a suite of resources developed to support community participation and that draw on good practice examples from the literature and HealthWest's partners.

Health Issues Centre's Paying and reimbursing consumers position statement provides reimbursement guidelines for health services and health-related organisations looking to work with consumers.

Safer Care Victoria's Partnering in healthcare framework supports health services with practical strategies to improve outcomes by better involving consumers and their families.
